

Datasheet TC 2-77

About: CIE TC 2-77 “Fundamental Concepts” is an informal CIE technical committee which has terms of reference: “To facilitate informal collaboration and sharing of ideas on fundamental concepts in photometry, radiometry and colorimetry, with a special focus on dedicated activities at CIE Division 2 division meetings.” So, the intention is to have an informal dinner and enjoy time together. But additionally we have the opportunity to discuss a topic from within D2 which may be controversial or which needs brainstorming and which we don’t have time for in the normal meeting proceedings. The price includes the dinner and a limited amount of drinks. More details like the venue and topic of discussion will follow later.
